SUPREME COURT DECISION.

Dezendorf vs. Humphreys and Tallafarro vs. Mutual Life Insurance Company.

The cases of Dezendorf vs. Humphreys & Son and Lounsbury vs. Humphreys & Son, from the Court of Law and Chancery, in this city, which were reversed by the Supreme Court of Appeals at Richmond Thursday, were of great local interest.

Mr. Croft gave to his daughter, Mrs. Dezendorf, property for her sole and separate use during her life, and at her death to be divided among her children. Her father provided that the property should not be conveyed or encumbered by his daughter. Mrs. Dezendorf made a deed of trust of the rent and profits to secure Mrs. Lounsbury et al., and subsequently confessed judgment in favor of certain creditors. Other creditors (Humphreys & Son) brought suit against her and obtained judgments.

Judge Martin held that the restriction against alienation prevented the deed of trust from taking effect, but that the judgments obtained against her by regular suit bound the property. In the Court of Appeals it was contended by the deed of trust creditor and those in whose favor she had confessed judgment that the estate created by the will was a statutory legal estate and that the restrictions were not valid. The court holds that it was an equitable separate estate, and as such there could be annexed to it such conditions as alienation, and also that the judgment obtained against her by regular suit could not, in the face of these restrictions, be valid any more than the confessed judgments or the deed of trust.

The result is that Mrs. Dezendorf can enjoy this property during her life from the claim of her creditors. The lawyers in the case were Messrs. Tunstall & Thom, for Lounsbury; Mr. William H. White and Messrs. Christian & Christian, of Richmond, for Dezendorf; Messrs. Whitehurst and Hughes, for the creditors, in favor of whom judgments were confessed, and Messrs. Burroughs & Bro., for Humphreys & Son.

The Court of Appeals, in affirming the case of the New York Life Insurance company against W. H. Tallafarro, from the Court of Law and Chancery, in this city, settles a protracted litigation, the case having been tried three times in this city. It was first tried in the Corporation Court and judgment obtained by Mr. Tallafarro, but Judge Brooke set the verdict aside. It next came up in the Court of Law and Chancery, and the result was a hung jury. The last trial resulted in a verdict for Tallafarro, and the insurance company appealed. The object of the suit was to recover salary, about $1,200 being involved. The Supreme Court held that if a party object to evidence and afterwards introduce the same himself, it is no ground for reversing the judgment, though the evidence was incompetent. The lawyers in the case were Mr. W. L. Williams, for Tallafarro, and Messrs. Wolfe & Old, for the insurance company.

Among the other cases decided by the court was that of Williams vs. Tomlin, from the Circuit Court of Hanover county. This case confirmed a right of free ferryage appurtenant to a King William county farm, which had been exercised by Capt. R. W. Tomlin, of this city, the appellee, and his ancestors from 1786 to the present time. Captain Tomlin defended his own interest in the courts.

One of the most skillful trained nurses in this country is Mrs. Annie I. Duggan, of 6 St. Charles street Boston, Mass. Her advice and experience as a nurse are worthy of the greatest consideration on account of her high reputation as a nurse, and her words are especially valuable because of their great encouragement to all classes of sufferers.

Mrs. Duggan says: "I was troubled with Sciatica for over four months and was treated by three different physicians, but received no relief, and as a last resort my friends advised my trying Dr. Greene's Nervura and in six weeks I was a well woman. Although it was four years ago, I have had no return of the trouble.

"My sister was also troubled with rheumatism and I advised her to try Dr. Greene's Nervura, which she did, and received great relief from it. I consider Dr. Greene's Nervura a godsend to me and gladly recommend it."

THE N. Y. P. & N.'S NEW STEAMER

The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railway company is soon to have an addition to its fleet of fine passenger transfer steamers plying between the termini of the rail line at Cape Charles and this city. For some time past a rented steamer has been used by the line, but it is stated that negotiations have been closed between A. J. Cassett, president of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad company, and W. C. Sproul, representing the president, John R. Roach, of the Delaware River Iron Shipbuilding and Engine works, of Chester, Pa., for the construction of a fine passenger steamer for the Cape Charles route.

The new steamer will be 230 feet in length, 41 feet beam over the deck, 15 feet depth of hold, and is to carry 250 passengers and 250 tons of baggage and express on a draught of 9½ feet. The shallow draught is necessary to enable the steamer to get into the wharves at Cape Charles. She will have handsome joiner work and new fitted saloons with ample accommodations for passengers, the main saloon extending the whole length of the joiner deck. Above this will be a promenade on the hurricane deck.

The new steamer will be driven by a screw propeller, and her engines will have cylinders 19, 32 and 50 inches in diameter, with a 28 inch stroke. Steam will be furnished by two boilers 13 feet in diameter, and a working steam pressure of about 170 pounds.

Mr. Cassett has decided on the name "Cape Charles" for this steamer, which will be the largest and fastest on the line. This line, which is a connection of the Pennsylvania railroad, has become one of the most popular routes to the South as it is the most direct line to Atlantic coast points. There is a call of about 36 miles from Cape Charles, Va., where the railroad terminates, to Norfolk, which is covered by the steamers, the landing at Old Point Comfort being made on the route. The present steamers on the line are the "New York" and "Old Point Comfort." The new steamer to be built at Roach's is to be about 25 feet longer than the New York, and is also several feet wider.

The Cape Charles is to be finished in seven months from the time of signing the contract, and is to make eighteen miles an hour.

"If the Southern should take hold of the matter it would give them a line from the West into Northeastern Carolina. The coal, fish and lumber trade, which it is claimed, would pass over this road, would be great. The people of that section claim now that they have no paying market for their fish, often because the Northern markets are abundantly supplied, while if they had this line to Suffolk, giving them a quick route West, they could dispose of the output of their fisheries, game, produce and lumber in the interior. The assertion is also made that this road would have the coal trade to that section from the West. The distance from Elizabeth City to Suffolk is but forty-five miles. There is a lumber road which runs all but fifteen miles between these two places, hence the cost will not be great. The distance from Elizabeth City to Raleigh by Suffolk would be about fifty miles shorter than it is by Portsmouth."
